AUTHOR GUIDELINES FOR BOOK CHAPTERS
FROM GLOBAL THINKING CENTER
(CENTRO DE PENSAMIENTO GLOBAL – CEPEG)

EDICIONES UNIVERSIDAD COOPERATIVA DE COLOMBIA

The Global Thinking Center (Centro de Pensamiento Global – CEPEG), from Universidad Cooperativa de Colombia, provides in this document the minimal guidelines that authors must take into account when interested in publishing manuscripts within the books belonging to the Acontecer Mundial, Pensamiento Global and Grupo de reflexión sobre integración y desarrollo en América Latina y Europa (Gridale) Collections.

The sections that constitute a manuscript submitted for this CEPEG collections are: title, authors, abstract, keywords, how to cite this chapter, theoretical content, references and author academic profile.

Title of the chapter

The title must appropriately reflect the content of the chapter and must do it in a clear and precise way. The title is a key element in the manuscript because it is the first access readers have to the topic.

Author's identification

Authors must provide their full name according to the way it appears on their previous publications.

Due to the fact that in certain languages (as in the case of Spanish), full names are constituted by two o more nouns, last names apart (i. e., María Ernestina Sabogal Manríquez), they can be written in different ways (i. e., María E. Sabogal; María Sabogal Manríquez; Ernestina Sabogal), which may cause confusion on the readers when trying to identify the author(s).

In order to avoid this, we recommend the authors to use the name indicated in the ORCID, or if you don’t have it, use your full names.

Abstract

Another key element to grasp the attention of a potential reader is the analytical abstract, which must be between 200 and 300 words, that reflects the general content of the chapter and its structure (i. e., purpose, topics, relevance, methodology, results, discussion, and conclusion).
Keywords
Keywords are thematical descriptors that facilitates the localization of the chapter on databases and related resources. Thus, select between four (4) or six (6) terms that best describe the content of your work. Please consider the Unesco Thesaurus.

How to cite this chapter
Please, provide the citation of your chapter according to APA style: full last name, initials, year of publication, chapter’s title, editor’s name, book title, chapter pages, city of publication and publishing house. Please follow the next example:

Content
All academic texts that have the purpose of effectively transmitting its message, generally, contains the next three basic parts: introduction, body and conclusions. Nonetheless, as an author you are free to organize the content of your manuscript as you wish to present it. Remember that the full text must not exceed 25 pages (not references included) and citation style must be the one from the American Psychological Association (APA).

References
Include the reference list at the end of the manuscript according to APA citation style (6th edition). You may include not only those references cited in the text, but also from texts corresponding to complementary bibliography. Please try to make a good and precise selection of cited works.

Author(s) Academic Profile
Must include: last academic degrees, institutional affiliation, country, updated ORCID, brief research trajectory, research topics. For Colombian authors, please include your updated CvLAC link.
